What's Next?

To start our final term with the children, in April we will be focusing on How We Express Ourselves. The children will be exploring aspects of 'identity' such as being a little/big brother/sister. We will be encouraging them to express their ideas, thoughts and feelings with their friends and teachers. There will be a lot of role play this month which we are all really looking forward to!

We will be incorporating some new fun songs during our daily circle time which will build the muscles in the children's tongues helping develop their speech and language. We will also be encouraging the children to investigate certain aspects more independently such as mixing colours to make a colour of their choice. We will be covering opposites such as fast/slow, loud/quiet and up/down to help expand their vocabulary further.

The Little Explorers have had an exciting couple of weeks back at school. They have all settled back in extremely well and are thrilled to be back with their friends and taking part in all of the activities available to them. The past two weeks have been packed with Mother's Day, St. Patrick's and Easter themed crafts and activities which has been a lot of fun. Our theme for March was Transportation. The children really enjoyed driving their cars on our masking taped roads and through rainbow tunnels. They even made boats out of Styrofoam and tested them out in our water trays. The biggest hit on the month were our Go and Stop signs where each child had a turn to tell their friends and teachers when to go and stop walking/jumping/running! They have all gotten straight back into PE with Coach Lyn and always look forward to having her each week.

We would like to give a warm welcome to the newest member in the Little Explorers classroom; Jaber! He has made an excellent addition to the class and was greeted with open arms by his new classmates.

We learned about the parts of the face and body and the five senses. We like to count from 1 to 5. We celebrated Mother's Day on March 21 and made a beautiful greeting card for our mothers. At the beginning of the third term, we will learn the names and sounds of animals and count from 1 to 10. Ramadan is coming soon and we will learn what is Ramadan and make Ramadan's decoration.
